

RED & BLACK

1. Before you start the trick, put all the black cards at the top of the deck and all the red cards at the bottom.
2. Fan the separated cards out, face down, and ask your audience member to pick a card. Mentally note whether it came from the red or the black area of the deck.
3. Tell them to look at their card and remember it.
4. Fan the cards again in such a way that, when asked to replace the card in the deck, the audience member does so in the opposite end of the pack from where they drew the card.
5. Fan out the cards with the faces toward you. The audience member's card will be the one in the wrong color.

GUESS THE BOTTOM CARD

1. Fan the cards out, face up, to show your audience it's a normal deck of cards. Memorize the bottom card while you do this.
2. With the deck of cards face down in your hand, start dropping cards from the top of the deck face down into a pile on the table and ask your audience member to say "stop" when they want. When they say "stop," hand over the selected card and ask them to memorize it.
3. Ask them to put their card back on top of the pile on the table.
4. Now put the deck of cards back together by placing the cards in your hand on top of the cards on the table. This puts the bottom card that you memorized on top of their selected card.
5. Now look through the entire deck. You'll find their selected card in front of the card you memorized. Make your grand reveal to the audience!
